

VISIT LOVELAND PR/SOCIAL MEDIA REPORT

June 2016

June was a great month for Visit Loveland PR/social media. Below are the highlights and results.

TOP PR PRIORITIES

Loveland Airport Marketing

Worked with local media and advertising services in the Loveland, Fort Collins, Denver, Rockford and Chicago markets to determine the most strategic avenues for marketing the Loveland Airport and positioning the City of Loveland as a tourist destination. Once strategic plans were fit to the city's budget, we worked with designers to create unique collateral for each outlet and scheduled the advertisements to run through the end of August.

Loveland Beer Passport Launch

Drafted, edited and finalized copy for the Loveland Beer Passport and worked closely with Perfect Square to finalize passport design. Additionally, targeted and pitched local and craft beer media on the passport launch and coordinated media visits and coverage. We also promoted the launch on all Visit Loveland social media channels and worked with Loveland breweries to post and share on their own social media channels.

City Sponsored Events

Pitched local and national media to secure a combined 52 pieces of media coverage for Hot Cars Cool Nights and Loveland Lake to Lake Triathlon. Additionally, promoted Lake to Lake on social media and through the "I Love Loveland Lake to Lake" photo contest, selected winner and coordinated prize package. Also composed post-event PR reports for each event.

Art App Launch

Held preliminary planning and strategy meetings for the Loveland Art App launch. Coordinated suggested launch date with Cindy and brainstormed promotional ideas, such as live social from artists to Visit Loveland social media channels, recorded artist descriptions of selected art pieces to be included in the app, media testing of the app pre-launch and initial public introduction of app at Art in the Park in August.

MEDIA HIGHLIGHTS:

June was an incredibly successful month for promotion of summer events, the Loveland Beer Passport launch, Loveland Airport and the art app launch. We secured an incredible 65 pieces of media coverage and saw a 9631.38% increase in impressions acquired this month and a 880.92% increase in PR value.

Fly RFD

Loveland, Colorado: 'Gateway to the Rockies'

By Janine Pumilia, managing editor

If you've been thinking about jetting off to the Rocky Mountains, this is a great time to do it. Elite Airways offers twice weekly flights between Fort Collins-Loveland Municipal Airport (FNL) and Chicago-Rockford International Airport (RFD). You can park the car (for free) at RFD, hop on your plane and land in Rocky Mountain foothills 2 hours and 15 minutes later.

Loveland, Colo., is an ideally located "base camp" for excursions north, south, east and west, and it also has a lot to offer visitors from within its own borders.

"For a town our size, we have a lot going on," says Nicole Yost, of VisitLovelandCO.com. The city of 72,000 people offers ample lodging, dining and shopping amenities plus a charming downtown and lively arts scene.

"Loveland hotels don't require minimum-night stays, as the mountain resorts often do, especially during busy seasons," Yost explains. Bum around Loveland for a day or two as you adjust to the elevation of just under 5,000 feet. Then head west on US-34 and arrive in gorgeous Estes Park, Colo. in less than an hour; glorious Rocky Mountain National Park will be at your disposal, as will quaint mountain towns with elevations of 7,000 to 8,000 feet.

Don't like mountain driving? Shuttle services can whisk you between Loveland and your mountain destination.

Or, head south on I-25 from Loveland and find yourself in Denver (pop. 650,000) an hour later. This state capital offers all the metropolitan sophistication, pro sports team action and jazzed-up nightlife you would expect. Top attractions include the Denver Zoo, Denver Botanic Gardens and Denver Art Museum. Take in a Rockies ball-game at Coors Stadium or get tickets for a Broncos football game.

Or, head north from Loveland, on I-25, and roll into another state capital. The pace is a bit slower in Cheyenne, Wyo., which is 10 times smaller than Denver, but its Old West roots are on full display. Cheyenne is situated on a rolling landscape between the North and South Platte rivers. Rodeos, trains, outdoor adventure and Native American traditions are all part of the culture.

Head east from Loveland toward Greeley, Colo., and you'll notice an agri-tourism trail along the way. Visitors to Greeley's Colorado Model Railroad Museum give it an "Excellent" rating on TripAdvisor.com and the Antique Washing Machine Museum offers good, clean fun to those who enjoy quirky attractions.

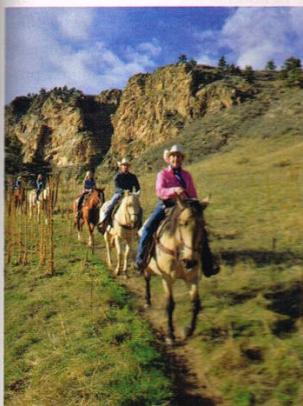

If you hanker to ride a horse in wide-open spaces, plenty of reputable dude ranches surround Loveland. One is Sylvan Dale Guest Ranch, less than 10 miles away, nestled near the Roosevelt National Forest. Saddle up your horse, gather around an open fire or do some trout fly-fishing in the Big Thompson River Valley.

The number of breweries, distilleries, wineries and "cideries" in the Loveland area may surprise you. Many offer tours. Along with a pretty downtown shopping district, Loveland offers The Promenade Shops, with more than 75 brand favorites like Banana Republic, White House Black Market and Build-a-Bear Workshop. Nearby there's a MetroLux 14 Theatre, a seasonal skating rink and walking paths to the one-of-a-kind Chapungu Sculpture Park, featuring Zimbabwe stone sculptures. Loveland's 10-acre Benson Sculpture Garden showcases 148 sculptures and is considered a "must-see" in the world of contemporary U.S. art sites.

Outdoor movies and plenty of special events play out in Loveland beneath skies that are clear 300 days per year.

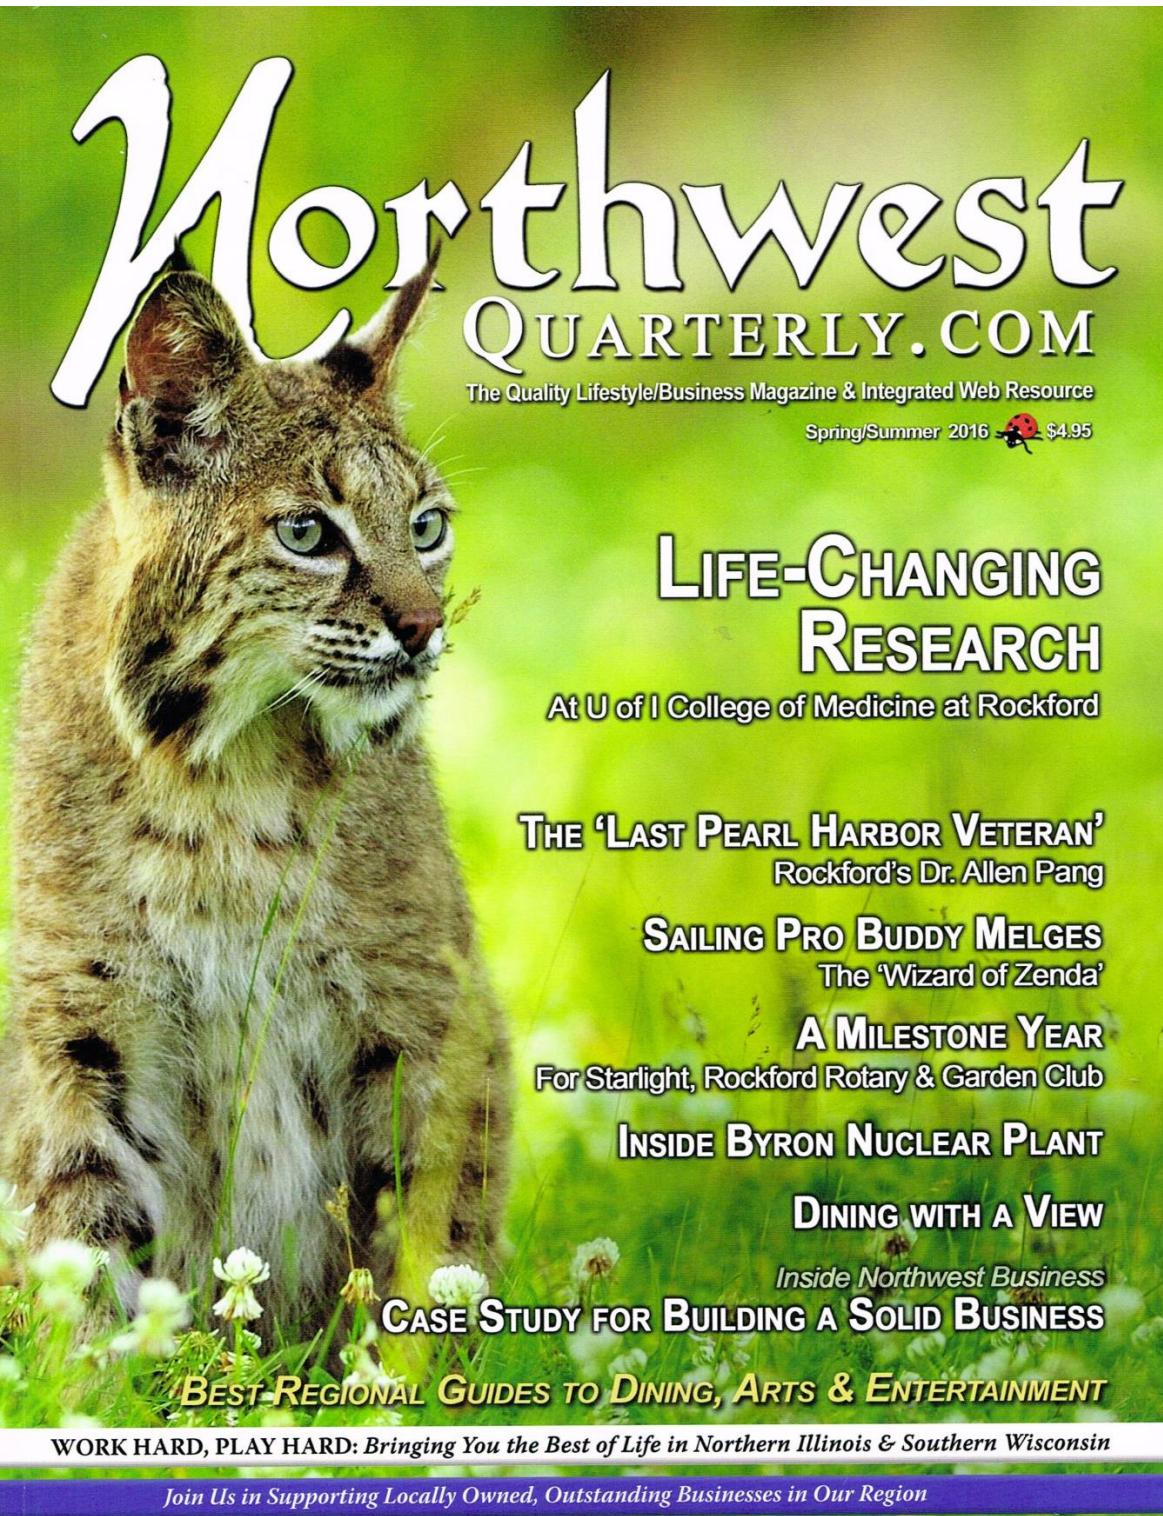

Wintertime is just as lively in Colorado, of course, with world-class ski resorts dotting the state map. Be sure to book flights and ski resorts well in advance.

Flights to FNL depart Rockford at 8 a.m. on Mondays and Fridays; FNL flights to Rockford depart at 4 p.m. Mondays and Fridays. Tickets are on sale now. Learn more at flyrfd.com. ■

Loveland's next big thing: Beer passports

Craft breweries and city launch Loveland Brewery Tour branding effort

By Craig Young

Reporter-Herald Staff Writer

POSTED: 06/13/2016 10:28:49 AM MDT

City of Loveland visitor services coordinator Cindy Mackin, left, and Loveland Aleworks owner Nick Callaway, right, toast the start of the new Loveland Brewery Tour on Friday afternoon. The tour allows patrons to visit eight of the city's craft breweries, drink a pint, get their passports stamped, and earn rewards from the Loveland Visitors Center. (Michael Brian / Loveland Reporter-Herald)

LOVELAND -- First there was the Valentine Thing, then the Art Thing, and now the people promoting Loveland are making a big deal about the Beer Thing.

On Monday, Loveland's eight craft breweries and the city's Visit Loveland office launched a new branding effort that draws attention to the city's burgeoning brewing scene.

They're calling it the Loveland CO Brewery Tour, with the tag line "Love.Beer.Culture."

The Brewery Tour uses a passport format to encourage people to check out each brewery, where they'll receive a stamp in the passport. To ease the journey, seven of the breweries are offering passport holders a buy-one-get-one-free deal on pints.

The free passports are available at each brewery and at the Loveland Visitors Center, 5400 Stone Creek Circle. When a beer traveler has collected all eight stamps, he or she returns the passport to the Visitors Center and receives a free Brewery Tour T-shirt or beer glass.

"This is driven by the brewers themselves," said Cindy Mackin, visitor services coordinator for the city. She explained that in the course of their work, the brewers go to many events in other cities each year, and they wanted to have something to give to people to tell the story of Loveland's bubbling beer scene.

Loveland's craft brewers have always collaborated, Mackin said.

"They seem to work really well together," she said. "It's a great culture."

From Boulder to Fort Collins, Northern Colorado has 50 breweries, Mackin said.

"That's a lot of breweries. Seventy percent of the beer that is created in the state comes from Northern Colorado," she said.

This isn't the first city to come up with a passport program, but Mackin said Loveland's is a bit different. One, it's free. Also, it does some advertising.

"It's a beautiful passport," she said. "It's a real educational piece" with pages on the main styles of beer, the kinds of glasses that traditionally are used for different varieties of beer and even tips on how to sample beer.

Loveland also boasts distilleries, meaderies and a cidery that Mackin said might be included in a future expansion of the passport program.

Not to stray too far from Loveland's standing as an arts-infused community, Mackin said: "The brewers really see themselves as artists. This is kind of their craft."

The eight Loveland breweries, in the order in which they opened, are: Rock Bottom Brewery, Grimm Brothers Brewhouse, Big Beaver Brewing Co., Loveland Aleworks, Verboten Brewing, Buckhorn Brewers, Crow Hop Brewing and Big Thompson Brewery.

Loveland Colorado creates Craft Beer Passport

[PRESS RELEASE] LOVELAND, Colo. - June 13, 2016

- Loveland has launched a craft beer brand and free beer passport program, creating an all-encompassing craft brewery experience that highlights the best Loveland has to offer. The new brand and tagline, "Love. Beer. Culture." highlight themes amongst the city's tourism assets. As one of Colorado's only free beer passport programs, Loveland's passport provides deals to most of Loveland's breweries, as well as the opportunity for participants to take home a commemorative Loveland-branded glass or T-shirt.

"Loveland's craft beer scene launched in 2010 with the opening of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse and our city has quickly become established as a beer destination, enhancing opportunities for visitors," said Cindy Mackin, visitor services coordinator for the City of Loveland. "This project is an incredible opportunity for us to partner with our breweries to showcase their brews while supporting our goals of promoting Loveland as a craft beer destination. We've been getting the recognition, but this adds more opportunity for us to celebrate Loveland's unique and award-winning beer culture."

The new brand and passport program bring together Big Beaver Brewing Co., Big Thompson Brewery, Buckhorn Brewers, Crow Hop Brewing Co., Grimm Brothers Brewhouse, Loveland Aleworks, Rock Bottom Brewery, Verboten Brewing and Visit Loveland, part of the City of Loveland's Economic Development office, to promote the city's beer scene. As Loveland tourism ambassadors, breweries will take branded collateral to craft beer events throughout the U.S. to promote Loveland. The passport program is a way for visitors and residents to celebrate Loveland beer and support local breweries while they are in town.

This isn't the first time that Loveland's breweries have worked together. Many breweries have had collaborative relationships for years - working together to launch special collaboration beers, helping new breweries launch and jointly generating opportunity for all breweries.

"It's been a pleasure to partner the local brewing community with the Loveland's tourism program to create the Loveland Brewery Passport and brand," said Russell Fruits, vice president of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse. "Being able to introduce such a wide variety of guests to Loveland's award-winning breweries is an exciting opportunity. We hope this encourages people to slow down, take some time, and enjoy a pint or two of locally crafted beer."

How the Loveland Beer Passport Works

Visitors can pick up their free craft beer passport during normal business hours at the Loveland Visitors Center, 5400 Stone Creek Circle, Loveland, CO 80538, or simply head to one of the participating breweries. Once visitors have their free passport, their self-led beer tour begins with buy one get one free specials at seven participating breweries. Once passports are filled with stamps, participants can turn their booklet into the Loveland Visitors Center for a commemorative Loveland beer glass or T-shirt.

Participants must be 21-years-of-age or older to complete the passport. Safety is our highest priority. Please drink responsibly.

For more information and to plan your Loveland craft beer tour, visit the new website LoveBeerCulture.com.

Fermentedly Challenged's comments: This deal has no expiration date so you can take your time getting your passport stamps filled in. As new breweries open in Loveland a new passport will be updated. It is possible to complete one passport and get another passport and start again if you wish to earn both the t-shirt and the glass.

Loveland, Colorado Launches Beer Brand, Free Craft Beer Passport

By Zach Clevenger - June 14, 2016

f Share on Facebook t Tweet on Twitter G+ Pint

Loveland has launched a craft beer brand and free craft beer passport program, creating an all-encompassing craft brewery experience that highlights the best Loveland has to offer. The new brand and tagline, "Love. Beer. Culture." highlight themes amongst the city's tourism assets. As one of Colorado's only free beer passport programs, Loveland's passport provides deals to most of Loveland's breweries, as well as the opportunity for participants to take home a commemorative Loveland-branded glass or T-shirt.

"Loveland's craft beer scene launched in 2010 with the opening of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse and our city has quickly become established as a beer destination, enhancing opportunities for visitors," said Cindy Mackin, visitor services coordinator for the City of Loveland. "This project is an incredible opportunity for us to partner with our breweries to showcase their brews while supporting our goals of promoting Loveland as a craft beer destination. We've been getting the recognition, but this adds more opportunity for us to celebrate Loveland's unique and award-winning beer culture."

The new brand and passport program bring together Big Beaver Brewing Co., Big Thompson Brewery, Buckhorn Brewers, Crow Hop Brewing Co., Grimm Brothers Brewhouse, Loveland Aleworks, Rock Bottom Brewery, Verboten Brewing and Visit Loveland, part of the City of Loveland's Economic Development office, to promote the city's beer scene. As Loveland tourism ambassadors, breweries will take branded collateral to craft beer events throughout the U.S. to promote Loveland. The passport program is a way for visitors and residents to celebrate Loveland beer and support local breweries while they are in town.

This isn't the first time that Loveland's breweries have worked together. Many breweries have had collaborative relationships for years – working together to launch special collaboration beers, helping new breweries launch and jointly generating opportunity for all breweries.

"It's been a pleasure to partner the local brewing community with the Loveland's tourism program to create the Loveland Brewery Passport and brand," said Russell Fruits, vice president of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse. "Being able to introduce such a wide variety of guests to Loveland's award-winning breweries is an exciting opportunity. We hope this encourages people to slow down, take some time, and enjoy a pint or two of locally crafted beer."

How the Loveland Beer Passport Works

Visitors can pick up their free craft beer passport during normal business hours at the Loveland Visitors Center, 5400 Stone Creek Circle, Loveland, CO 80538, or simply head to one of the participating breweries. Once visitors have their free passport, their self-led beer tour begins with buy one get one free specials at seven participating breweries. Once passports are filled with stamps, participants can turn their booklet into the Loveland Visitors Center for a commemorative Loveland beer glass or T-shirt.

Participants must be 21-years-of-age or older to complete the passport. Safety is our highest priority. Please drink responsibly.

For more information and to plan your Loveland craft beer tour, visit the new website LoveBeerCulture.com.

Celebrate the Fourth of July in Boulder, Longmont, Loveland

Here are some ways to mark Independence Day around the Front Range

By Aimee Heckel

Staff Writer

POSTED: 06/30/2016 11:19:01 PM MDT | UPDATED: 7 DAYS AGO

Three years ago, Karen Mastie and her friends stretched out on blankets along the banks of the small lake, a perfectly quiet front row seat to the city of Longmont's fireworks display.

No crowds, no hassle. Just their own private party with arguably the best view in the city.

What luck that the TinkerMill, a makerspace in Longmont, was located in backyard of the Boulder County Fairgrounds, the Fourth of July headquarters. Mastie and her friends were all active members of the mill.

They decided to share their good luck with the community.

Last year, the opened the TinkerMill's doors to anyone in the public who wanted to join.

"We decided, 'Let's use it as a platform for engaging with the community and bringing other people into our doors,'" Mastie says.

It worked.

The first TinkerMill Carnival drew in about 400 people. Since then, the TinkerMill's membership has more than doubled, now reaching 360.

Mastie says the surge in interest can't solely be attributed to the big Fourth of July party — but it didn't hurt, she says.

"I heard a lot of people saying, 'I've been meaning to come here,' or 'I heard about this and wanted to check it out,' or 'I've never heard about this before,'" she says. "I'm sure it contributed."

The TinkerMill is holding its free, family-friendly carnival again this year.

It's one of a handful of events throughout Boulder County and beyond, from large fireworks shows to parades to races to pancake breakfasts. Many, like the TinkerMill Carnival, are free.

Donations are accepted at the carnival if you want to stay for the fireworks, to help offset the costs of organizing the event.

Kids each get two free tickets to buy popcorn, snow cones, cotton candy or other carnny fare.

It will include live music, demonstrations (glassblowing, blacksmithing), games and activities, beer, food, a rocket launch, a petting zoo, interactive vendor booths and tours of the facility. New this year: an auction of different items made at the TinkerMill.

"You can see the tangible things people are making in Longmont and ingment are makerspace aspect with a physical object that was made by a TinkerMill member," Mastie says.

Kids can build different structures for the Water Wars contest. Water balloons will be launched at the structures to see which is the last standing.

Capacity is capped at 600, so Mastie advises people to come early. Bring a blanket and claim your territory. Plus, that will make it easier to find parking and maneuver around the nearby streets closed for the fairgrounds' show.

"Come early and enjoy the five hours between then and the fireworks show. There's so much to do," Mastie says. "You can tour the space, or if you just want to sit and play cards by the lake, you can."

Loveland introduces craftbeer passport program

By Ellen Fike, Wyoming Tribune Eagle Jun 25, 2016 CommentsIf You Go

What: Loveland, Colorado has introduced a new beer passport program, allowing people to check out the eight breweries in town and then receive a free t-shirt or glass.

When: Hours will vary by brewery

Where: The eight breweries are all located in close proximity in downtown Loveland

Cost: Free to obtain passport; beers will vary in cost

Phone: 970-667-3882

Online: www.lovebeerculture.com

Loveland, Colorado has now become one of the few cities in the state to offer a free beer passport program and the Visit Loveland staff is already running out of passports due to demand.

It's a good problem to have, Visit Loveland visitor service coordinator Cindy Mackin said.

The free passports were unrolled two weeks ago. Visitors and Loveland locals can get a passport from the Loveland Visitors Center or from any of the eight breweries participating.

The way the passport works is simple: get a passport, take it to any of the eight breweries, check out their beer and get your passport stamped. Once you have stamps from all eight breweries, turn the passport in at the visitor's center and receive your choice of a free t-shirt or commemorative glass, both of which will be changed out for different designs in the coming months.

"Our passport is unique in a couple ways," Mackin said. "First, it's free. But we also wanted to focus on the educational aspect of it. We have 'Know Your Brews' information in the passport, which will teach people the differences between the beers and what they should look for."

The passport also has a "tasting notes" section in it, so beer enthusiasts can jot down what they like and don't like about their drinks. Mackin likened this to a wine tasting.

She did note that while it is technically possible to complete the passport in one day, the Visit Loveland staff doesn't encourage people to visit all of the locations at once.

After someone finishes a passport, they are welcome to get another one and do the tour all over again.

"We'll be updating the passports as new breweries come on board," Mackin said. "We're looking to expand to distilleries, meaderies, cideries and wineries at some point, as well."

Mackin said the response has been overwhelmingly positive. She said this will be a good education not only for visitors to the town, but for locals, too. Plus, it's a good way to bring in tourists year-round, rather than doing a seasonal beer tour.

Loveland, Colorado Launches Beer Brand, Free Craft Beer Passport

June 13, 2016

Loveland has launched a craft beer brand and free beer passport program, creating an all-encompassing craft brewery experience that highlights the best Loveland has to offer. The new brand and tagline, "Love. Beer. Culture." highlight themes amongst the city's tourism assets. As one of Colorado's only free beer passport programs, Loveland's passport provides deals to most of Loveland's breweries, as well as the opportunity for participants to take home a commemorative Loveland-branded glass or T-shirt.

"Loveland's craft beer scene launched in 2010 with the opening of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse and our city has quickly become established as a beer destination, enhancing opportunities for visitors," said Cindy Mackin, visitor services coordinator for the City of Loveland. "This project is an incredible opportunity for us to partner with our breweries to showcase their brews while supporting our goals of promoting Loveland as a craft beer destination. We've been getting the recognition, but this adds more opportunity for us to celebrate Loveland's unique and award-winning beer culture."

The new brand and passport program bring together Big Beaver Brewing Co., Big Thompson Brewery, Buckhorn Brewers, Crow Hop Brewing Co., Grimm Brothers Brewhouse, Loveland Aleworks, Rock Bottom Brewery, Verboten Brewing and Visit Loveland, part of the City of Loveland's Economic Development office, to promote the city's beer scene. As Loveland tourism ambassadors, breweries will take branded collateral to craft beer events throughout the U.S. to promote Loveland. The passport program is a way for visitors and residents to celebrate Loveland beer and support local breweries while they are in town.

This isn't the first time that Loveland's breweries have worked together. Many breweries have had collaborative relationships for years – working together to launch special collaboration beers, helping new breweries launch and jointly generating opportunity for all breweries.

"It's been a pleasure to partner the local brewing community with the Loveland's tourism program to create the Loveland Brewery Passport and brand," said Russell Fruits, vice president of Grimm Brothers Brewhouse. "Being able to introduce such a wide variety of guests to Loveland's award-winning breweries is an exciting opportunity. We hope this encourages people to slow down, take some time, and enjoy a pint or two of locally crafted beer."

How the Loveland Beer Passport Works

Visitors can pick up their free craft beer passport during normal business hours at the Loveland Visitors Center, 5400 Stone Creek Circle, Loveland, CO 80538, or simply head to one of the participating breweries. Once visitors have their free passport, their self-led beer tour begins with buy one get one free specials at seven participating breweries. Once passports are filled with stamps, participants can turn their booklet into the Loveland Visitors Center for a commemorative Loveland beer glass or T-shirt.

Participants must be 21-years-of-age or older to complete the passport. Safety is our highest priority. Please drink responsibly.

For more information and to plan your Loveland craft beer tour, visit the new website LoveBeerCulture.com.

Loveland Has Your Passport to Fun, Free Beer and Free Gear!

By Dave Jensen June 15, 2016 4:39 PM

Loveland has launched a great new branding statement to include Loveland's ever-expanding craft beer scene - 'Love. Beer. Culture.' Makes sense: It's LOVEland, we have Beer, and we have Culture! To help introduce the new branding, they have a passport/passbook for you to check out the city's breweries to get free beer and then some free gear!

Image 1 of 4

Dave Jensen, TSM

Loveland's craft brewery scene has really taken off over the last four-five years. There are now EIGHT microbreweries in town: Big Beaver Brewing, Big Thompson Brewery, Buckhorn Brewers, Crow Hop Brewing, Grimm Brothers, Loveland Aleworks, Rock Bottom Brewery and Verboten Brewing. The City of Loveland and Visit Loveland have launched a new brand for Loveland: Love.Beer.Culture., which takes what Loveland has been about- Love and Culture, and adds what's new to the city- Craft Beer!

The brand will help promote the breweries and will help promote Loveland as being a craft-beer destination through Visit Loveland. To get the brand launched, they've put together a passport to celebrate Loveland's award-winning craft beer culture! - The Brewery Passport.

What you do, is get a Brewery Passport. They're free and available at the breweries or at the Loveland Visitors Center at Centerra. The passport has all of the Loveland breweries in it, with a place for those breweries to stamp. So, you go to each brewery and 'SIP' a beer and get a 'STAMP'. Most of the breweries are offering a 'buy a pint, get a pint' with your visit as well!

Once you get all the stamps in the passport, 'STOP' into the Loveland Visitors Center to receive a free t-shirt or commemorative glass! Sounds like a ton of fun! You get to check out ALL of Loveland's breweries - hopefully with at least ONE friend, and then you get some gear! Also, it gives you a great reason to get out to the Visitors Center - it's awesome!

The passport booklet also comes with a map (so that you can plan your route), tasting notes sections for each of the breweries, information on styles of beers and on styles of beer glasses, and tips from the Pros (to help you know what you're doing!)

There's more when you 'SHARE'! Snap a picture of you and your friends or your experience while enjoying a Loveland craft-beer and post it to one of the city's social sites – Facebook, Twitter, Instagram. When you post a picture, use the hashtag #LoveBeerCulture. Each month, they'll draw out a winner to receive a free GROWLER of beer from one of the breweries!

Be sure to drink responsibly when you go to get your stamps, but definitely HAVE FUN, and spread the word!

PR WORK COMPLETED*

Fyn PR prepared a PR Plan which outlined key goals, messages, pitch ideas, and media targets. Additional markets were added to the last year's media list, including Northern Colorado/Southern Wyoming, Denver, Colorado Springs/Pueblo, and car/hot rod media.

With approved messaging, Fyn PR posted the event to event calendars across the state of Colorado to generate additional visibility for the event. This effort, combined with proactive pitching, helped secure Hot Cars Cool Nights spots in top calendars including Colorado Car Show, 7 News, Fort Collins Coloradoan and several Colorado radio stations.

A large focus was media and influencer relations. Fyn PR drafted a main event press release and substituted the planned pre-event unique car profile press release for a post-event Realities for Children donation announcement. The pre-event unique car profile was included in the media alert that was distributed to local media outlets to encourage media attendance. In addition, the team conducted ongoing, proactive media relations outreach to secure coverage, interviews, segments and more to meet 2016 goals.

Fyn PR helped prepare spokespeople for each media interview and segment by providing briefing documents and working with spokespeople to practice and prepare key messages and responses to questions.

Hot Cars Cool Nights sticks with downtownClassic car show returns to Loveland June 3-4*BY MICHELLE VENDEGNA

Reporter-Herald Staff Writer

Hot Cars Cool Nights is back for its second year in downtown Loveland. The classic car show is returning with favorites such as the pinup contest while also adding a local beer tour.

"All we are doing is taking what we did last year and making it better," said Michael Detwiler, organizer and owner of The Forge, a Loveland car-restoration shop.

Detwiler started the event last year with the idea of bringing a car show downtown for a small-town, vintage feel and to showcase local businesses.

The event kicks off Friday night with a celebration at The Forge that is open to all. Saturday includes the classic car show, the pinup contest, music, food, beer garden and kids activities.

The event ends Saturday night with a new addition, the Rock'n Downtown Beer Tour.

The beer tour offers participants an opportunity to visit local breweries or to experience all that downtown has to offer. Participants pay $5 for a passport and have to visit Verboten, Crow Hop, Pourhouse (serving Grimm Brothers) and Loveland Aleworks for a passport sticker. It is not a requirement to purchase anything at the stops.

Those who finish get a T-shirt. The tour is replacing last year's drive-in movie at Thunder Mountain Harley-Davidson.

"It was just too much, and we also wanted to keep the people in downtown Loveland," said Detwiler.

The car show will run until only 4 p.m. to give people an opportunity to get food or take a break before the beer tour starts at 6 p.m.

The tour is set up to take people throughout downtown to see as much of it as possible. Detwiler said the goal is to get people excited about downtown and the revitalization.

"I love the idea of doing it in the venue of downtown Loveland," Detwiler said. It gives people that come more to do and offers them a chance to experience the restaurants and shops.

"We also will have a couple of vendors that specialize in quick walk-up and go," he said.

Returning this year is the popular pinup contest. Contestants dress as pinup girls from the 1940s and '50s.

Detwiler said organizers have split the contest into two different categories. The first is the traditional pinup style and the second is rockabilly, an evolution of pinup. He described it as a little more rough and tough look along the lines of the Rosie the Riveter images of the World War II era.

Marvin Meyer of Loveland is bringing his 1957 Chevy for the second year. Meyer is a Loveland native and has owned his car for the past 44 years. He said he appreciated how wellrun the event was the first year.

"The people that are involved are genuine; they are good people," he said.

"It was well attended, and what was really nice was that the spectators and foot traffic was really high," Meyers said about why he wanted to return. He has been attending car shows for the past 18 years.

"You can have a good conversation with people, and hopefully they go away with a better understanding," Meyers said.

He knows that the event goes far beyond just looking at cars. He has always enjoyed talking to people about the history of his car and their experiences with classic vehicles.

"Anyone interested in cars in any form, the art of it or the transportation of it — the back stories of some of these cars is tremendous," he said.

The screenshot shows the HeidiTown website. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links to Home, Travel, Festivals, About, Advertise, HeidiTown Fest, and Online Store. The main header features a "Welcome to HEIDITOWN" sign with a starburst effect and the text "Colorado festivals & travel". Below the header, there are links to "Girlfriend Getaway in the Colorado Rocky Mountains" and "Camping at Echo Park in Dinosaur National Monument". A "Featured Festival: Hot Cars & Cool Nights, June 4, 2016" is highlighted, with a photo of a car show and a description. The page also includes social media sharing buttons, a search bar, and logos for the German American Chamber of Commerce, Biergarten Festival, and Our Side of the Divide. A sidebar on the right contains the "The HEIDI Guide" section, which includes a "HEIDITOWN GIVES BACK CAMPAIGN" for National Mill Dog Rescue, a "Featured Festival: HOPS & HARLEY JUNE 25 2016" with a dog and beer glass, and a "Subscribe to HeidiTown.com!" form.

Featured Festival: Hot Cars & Cool Nights, June 4, 2016

Published May 20, 2016

Loveland, Colorado is a great place for a car show. After all, downtown is a bit of a throwback, which works perfectly as a setting for retro cars (pre-1976), terrific tunes, cold beer and pin-up girls.

We made it to the first annual Hot Cars Cool Nights last year and had lots of fun checking out the cars. Eventually we parked ourselves on the patio at Mo'Betta Gumbo, ate po'boys and watched the crowds go by.

That's what's great about Hot Cars Cool Nights, you can simply take your time and enjoy the experience of being in downtown Loveland.

The main event at this festival is the car show. I'm not sure how many cars were shown last year, but this year they've capped the amount of cars allowed at 300.

In 2015, I saw lots of different types of vehicles including traditional hot rods and some interesting custom rides. I'm a sucker for the old cars like the 1955 Chevy Bel Air, which make me think of road trips and drive-ins.

In addition to the car show there's a Pin-Up Contest, because a car show just isn't complete without a few pretty girls strutting their stuff. Contestants are encouraged to dress up in vintage clothes and wear retro hairstyles.

And of course there's live, rockabilly music, food and a beer garden featuring local craft beers.

New this year is the Rockin' Downtown Beer Tour. It's just $5 to participate in this walking tour of local breweries from 6 to 9 p.m. on the evening of the festival.

This event is family-friendly and there will be activities for the kids. In fact, they will even be allowed to vote for their favorite car in the Children's People's Choice Award. Grown ups get to vote for the People's Choice Award.

The event ends Saturday night with a new addition, the Rock'n Downtown Beer Tour.

The beer tour offers participants an opportunity to visit local breweries or to experience all that downtown has to offer.

Participants pay $5 for a passport and have to visit Verboten, Crow Hop, Pourhouse (serving Grimm Brothers) and Loveland Aleworks for a passport sticker. It is not a requirement to purchase anything at the stops.

Those who missed Saturday's tour is replacing last year's drive-in movie at Thunder Mountain Harley-Davidson.

"It was just too much, and we also wanted to keep the people in downtown Loveland," said Detwiler.

The car show will run until only 4 p.m. to give people an opportunity to get food or take a break before the beer tour starts at 6 p.m.

The tour is set up to take people throughout downtown to see as much of it as possible. Detwiler said the goal is to get people excited about downtown and the revitalization.

"I love the idea of doing it in the venue of downtown Loveland," Detwiler said. It gives people that come more to do and offers them a chance to experience the restaurants and shops.

"We also will have a couple of vendors that specialize in quick walk-up and go," he said.

Returning this year is the popular pinup contest. Contestants dress as pinup girls from the 1940s and '50s.

Detwiler said organizers have split the contest into two different categories. The first is the traditional pinup style and the second is rockabilly, an evolution of pinup. He described it as a little more rough and tough look along the lines of the Rosie the Riveter images of the World War II era.

Marvin Meyer of Loveland is bringing his 1957 Chevy for the second year. Meyer is a Loveland native and has owned his car for the past 44 years. He said he appreciated how well-run the event was the first year.

"The people that are involved are genuine; they are good people," he said.

"It was well attended, and what was really nice was that the spectators and foot traffic was really high," Meyers said about why he wanted to return. He has been attending car shows for the past 18 years.

"You can have a good conversation with people, and hopefully they go away with a better understanding," Meyers said.

He knows that the event goes far beyond just looking at cars. He has always enjoyed talking to people about the history of his car and their experiences with classic vehicles.

"Anyone interested in cars in any form, the art of it or the transportation of it — the back stories of some of these cars is tremendous," he said.

Michelle Vendegna: 970-699-5704, vendegnam@reporterherald.com.

Marvin Meyer has owned his 1957 Chevy for the past 44 years. He worked with his brothers to keep it in top condition. It will be one of the cars at Hot Cars Cool Nights on June 4 in downtown Loveland. (Special to the Reporter Herald)

Hot rods, music, craft beer and fun. What more could you ask for a summer day in Downtown Loveland? Get revved up, The forge is putting on their second 'Hot Cars Cool Nights' event June 4, 2016!

The first Saturday of June in Downtown Loveland, get ready for some old-fashioned fun. It's going to be the 2016 'Hot Cars Cool Nights' with The Forge of Loveland. Hot rod and classic car enthusiasts will be bringing up to 300 vehicles to Loveland to show off. Everybody loves a great classic car show; last year's 'Hot Cars Cool Nights' was pretty epic, as you can see in the above video, so this one should be fantastic.

This event, free to the public, starts at 10am down on and around 4th Street, with hundreds of classic cars! There'll be live music throughout the day, including some great Rockabilly with 'Atomic Drifters'. A beer garden will be on hand with great local and national beers, and there'll be lots of stuff for the kids to do too, including a coloring contest and the Children's People's Choice Award (where they get to vote for THEIR favorite car!).

They'll have a swap meet, with car parts, toys and classic-car themed printed items. With the whole event having a 'travel back in time' feel, the Pin-Up Contest is a lot of fun too. To see the women compete dressed up in '30s attire is pretty neat!

After the awards at 4pm, you can stick around downtown and grab dinner at one of the amazing restaurants; and afterward, bring it on back to the party for 'Rock'n Downtown Loveland.' This will be a 'pub passport' walking tour of establishments in Downtown; get your $5 passport filled out and you'll get a great event t-shirt!

From Mike Detwiler, owner of The Forge who puts on the event:

"Putting a one-of-a-kind spin on a traditional car show, this homegrown, high-caliber event provides a place for car buffs and novices alike to join together and celebrate the vintage craftsmanship of classic cars and hot rods."

The Forge will be holding a 'kickoff' party on Friday night June 3- hence 'NIGHTS'. Sounds like a super summer event for Loveland, get more details HERE!

One Fine Day in June for Car & Truck Shows

Posted on May 23, 2016 by Karen O'Brien

I think I've found the best show day on the entire calendar. No, really. Summer show season offers a wide variety of events, some local and others that you've already planned around vacation time. But I came across one day that offers shows in almost all states of the continental United States that are sure to be a hit with truck owners.

June 4, 2016 is my pick as the best show day of the year, so start making plans now because there is most likely a show on that day within a reasonable driving distance from your home.

Here are some of the interesting options that led to my decision. In Olathe, Kansas, GMC truck fans can attend the 7th Annual Pontiac Tribute Day. It's open to all Pontiac, Oakland, and GMC vehicles. Hoosier Street Rods and Classics is hosting its 4th Annual Open Car Show at One More Time Rods and Restorations in Anderson, Indiana.

June 4 is the first day of the 53rd Annual Spring Festival Car Show and Swap Meet in Lancaster, Ohio, and all makes and models of cars and trucks are welcome. In Rochester, New Hampshire, the 5th Annual Wings & Wheels show will be held at Skyhaven Airport.

Hamlin, New York, will host the 19th Annual Hamlin Wheelfest Cruise-In at the Hamlin Fireman's Field. Hot Cars Cool Nights will take place in Loveland, Colorado.

I could go on and on—there are no shortage of June 4 events to pick from. So I hope we all have super weather that day and get out to enjoy this incredible hobby. I did find four events that stood out for their locations, activities, and "cool" factor.

Duvall, Washington

The 10th Annual Big Rock Classic Car Show will take place at the Duvall Safeway parking lot from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Located 25 miles northeast of Seattle, the show is open to all makes, models, and years of cars and trucks.

The show is unique in that it is organized by high school students. Each spring semester, the DECA students at Cedarcrest High School put on the Big Rock Classic Car Show.

"It's all run by the students," said show organizer Jaren Stevenson. "During second semester, we get sponsors, sign up vendors, update the website, get that year's T-shirt designed, and take care of the details."

"It's a family-oriented show. We have judges that determine the winners, and it's open to all cars and trucks. Some of the proceeds from the show go to DECA, but a huge chunk goes to Strong Against Cancer. It was really important to us to do something for them."

If you're in the Seattle area on June 4, go out to Duvall for the 10th Annual Big Rock Classic Car Show.

Madison, Wisconsin

The 10th Annual Cars on State Classic Car Show happens between 100–600 State Street in downtown Madison, Wisconsin. The family-friendly event is organized by the Greater State Street Business Association with support from Madison's Central Business Improvement District and is open to all makes and models of cars and trucks that are at least 20 years old.

"We limit the show to 110 cars because all of the show cars park on one side of street," said show organizer Cas Salas. "There is a $20 registration fee and all show cars receive a dash plaque in their goodie bag."

Because the show is held in historic downtown Madison, the show has several unique features.

"At the top of State Street is a farmer's market that goes from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. and it goes around the whole Capital," Salas said. "They've been holding the market forever. A car club from Burlington makes this a club event every year because they like being able to leave their cars and shop in the market."

Salas emphasized that this is a family-friendly event, and with the abundance of restaurants and small shops on State Street, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

"We expect between 7,000 to 10,000 spectators, and the car owners take the time to answer questions about their cars and people take a lot of photos," Salas said. "The owners are very friendly. In fact, Madison's Chief of Police attended last year and walked up and down the street. He had a wonderful time talking to car owners and listening to their stories. He is bringing his family back this year."

That's the mark of a successful event. Salas also commented that people enjoying the cars and swapping stories is one of the event's primary goals.

"It really is a fun day," Salas said. "Seven car owners have been here for all 10

The 10th Annual Cars on State show is an exciting day in scenic downtown Madison, Wisconsin.

Big Rock, Illinois

It's not every day that you find a show that welcomes farm tractors, but the 6th Annual Classic Car, Truck, Tractor & Motorcycle Show held each year in Big Rock, Illinois, has classes for pretty much everything powered by an internal combustion engine that is 25 years old or older. Held in Plowman's Park (48W508 Hinckley Rd., Big Rock, Illinois 60511), the proceeds of the show benefit the Big Rock Historical Society.

The 1950 GM Futurliner is the featured vehicle at the Big Rock show.

A special attraction at the show this year is the 1950 GM Futurliner #10, which is appearing courtesy of the NATMUS museum in Auburn, Indiana. If you've never seen a Futurliner, do not pass up this opportunity, it's a very special vehicle. Participant registration at the show and admittance for spectators are free.

This family-friendly event features raffles, a 50/50 drawing, the irresistible Lion's Club strawberry shortcake fundraiser, and the Boy Scouts coffee and donuts fundraiser will get you going in the morning because this show goes from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The show is a spectator-voting show, and 48 trophies will be given away at 3 p.m.

Show committee member Barb Baie described the event, "Big Rock is an old-fashioned small town, and this is a nice way to bring people together," she said. "This is our sixth year and the first time the show has been held on a Saturday. The show started as a play on Big Rock's zip code number. The first show was held on June 5, 2011, and our zip code is 60511. We'll never have trouble remembering when the show started."

"All proceeds from the show go to the historical society, and the whole town comes out to support it. We started in the parking lot of the library, but it got too big for that and we are out in the park that hosts the plowing match every September.

"We have dash plaques for the first 250 entrants and goodie bags for the first 50. We have some great sponsors who really go all out with prizes for the goodie bags. We have miniature train rides for the kids, and everybody raves about the strawberry shortcake."

Fire apparatus, tractors, and other special interest vehicles are also welcome at Big Rock.

Whittier, California

There is a plethora of truck-friendly events in the state of California on June 4, but if you're in the Los Angeles area that day, you'll enjoy the 16th Annual Uptown Whittier Car Show. Located at the intersection of Philadelphia and Greenleaf in downtown Whittier, the show will take up 10 city blocks and feature more than 400 show cars. Open to all makes, models, and years of vehicles, the judged show offers dash plaques and event T-shirts to all registered vehicles.

There will be a large display of military vehicles, a kids' area with rides and activities, live music all day (rock, blues, and jazz). A variety of vendors will serve up food and refreshments. Show organizers are expecting more than 10,000 spectators.

For more information, go to Whittier Uptown.

The Whittier Uptown show is open to all makes and models. Bring out your truck and enjoy the day.

Hot Cars and Cool Nights car show comes to Loveland

By Ellen Fike, Wyoming Tribune Eagle May 22, 2016 Commentsf t e d h

Promoter Mike Detwiler is hoping to make the second Hot Cars Cool Nights car show in Loveland, Colorado even bigger than last year's.

The family friendly vintage car show will be held in downtown Loveland on June 4.

This year will not only bring back the pin-up girl contest and live music, but there will be a pub crawl following the car show.

Detwiler feels like the downtown setting for the car show helps bring in a larger crowd.

"I wanted to drive home the idea of Americana, the idea of the good old days, of the greatest generation," he said. "People can park their cars and wander. It's just a different feel."

Last year, he had 250 registration spots for cars to be featured at the event. At least 300 turned up. Now, he's expecting an even bigger showing.

"We have space for 400 cars," he said. "People heard about it and just showed up last year. I'm fully expecting people to just show up again this year."

Registration for the car show is $50, but Detwiler is offering a discount for Wyoming

Even though the main event is on June 4, there will a kick-off party on June 3 at 6 p.m. at The Forge in Loveland. Then, following the car show on Saturday, the downtown beer tour will start at 6 p.m. that evening.

"Hot Cars Cool Nights is more than a car show. It's the party the night before, the celebration during the day and checking out local businesses later that night," Detwiler said.

Collins along the foothills before turning back to Loveland for a four mile run around Lake Loveland. The Aquabike athletes will complete the same course as Lake to Lake participants, without the run.

The 2016 USA Triathlon Club National Championships will take place on June 25 as part of the 16th Annual Loveland Lake to Lake Triathlon in Loveland, Colorado. The swim will take place in Lake Loveland, a private lake located at North Lake Park in the middle of Loveland. The bike portion takes participants over rolling hills to Horsetooth Reservoir, challenging to elite athletes, yet very doable for novice athletes. The run is an out and back course on neighborhood streets and walking trails.

This event is also home to the first ever USA Triathlon Family National Championships. As a part of this race, athletes will have the opportunity to compete in various family divisions. Athletes will race in pairs and there will be two divisions: those pairs that are 60 combined years of age and younger and 61+ combined years of age and older. The best combinations of siblings, spouses, and families win!

Please visit the event website for more information. Registration is now open!

Entry Fee: $95- $115

Loveland Lake to Lake triathlon offers something for everyone

Event hosting national club, family championships Saturday

In case you were on the fence about participating in this weekend's Lake to Lake Triathlon, this year's race has plenty of incentives to get you out to Lake Loveland early Saturday morning.

The 16th edition of the annual event will be home to the USA Triathlon Club National Championships. Cash and trophies will be up for grabs for five divisions based on a club's membership — just one of several ways the race attracts athletes from all over the state and beyond.

Saturday's race will also be home to USAT's inaugural family national championships, with as many as nine categories to compete in, including spouse combination, father-daughter, brother-sister, etc.

Not up for a full Olympic-length triathlon? Lake to Lake has you covered with a sprint race — which has double the participation from a year ago — as well as an aqua bike competition.

"Each category — sprint, Olympic and aqua bike — can earn points for your (club) team," race director Peggy Shockley said. "There's some pros out there, but this event caters definitely to age-group triathletes. People who are in clubs are in clubs to get that support and camaraderie of it all, to hang out and cheer each other on all day."

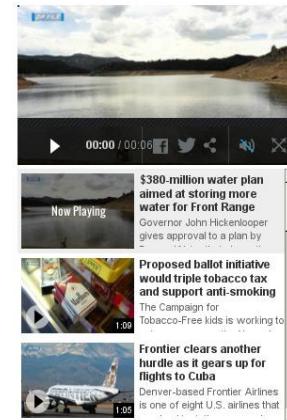

Lugging all your gear with you to compete in a triathlon far from home isn't easy, which is why distance travel points will be awarded. It's also why the race will be more of a regional competition than a national one this year — although that could change if things go well Saturday.

"It ends up being a larger competition between the clubs in the state rather than from all over the country," Shockley said. "But I think if we show those people from out of state a good time this year, then they'll go home and tell their other out-of-state friends it's worth the travel time. It's a big commitment to load up 50 people in a charter bus and tractor trailers with equipment and head west."

One squad that won't have to make a long commute to the starting line is the NoCo Tri Club. A

Loveland Lake to Lake Triathlon throws tough bike section at competitors

Mantell, Benson embrace challenging course en route to victory

Dan Duran, left, with Athletes in Tandem, begins to pull Andrew Stinson, center, into Lake Loveland as his mother Tina Stinson, back, wishes them well at the start of the Loveland Lake to Lake Triathlon Saturday morning June 25, 2016 at North Lake Park. Shortly after the photo was taken, Andrew was ...

There's nothing remotely easy about a triathlon.

But if there was one less tortuous leg of an Olympic-length race that includes a 1.5-kilometer swim, 30-mile bike ride and 10-kilometer run, most would assume it's the cycling.

Not at the Loveland Lake to Lake Triathlon — especially not with the grueling incline the course takes its riders on from the western edge of Loveland up to Horsetooth Reservoir along the foothills.

But instead of dreading the ride that includes some 800 feet of elevation gain, Steve Mantell and Hayley Benson fully embraced the challenge. Their approach paid off handsomely as Mantell and Benson were the top male and female finishers during Saturday's 16th edition of the Lake to Lake Triathlon.

Mantell, a Fort Collins resident closing in on his graduate degree at Colorado State, took home the title in his first year competing in the event.

"Personally for me, I prefer a bike course with some variation, just 'cause it's more of my strength than if it's flatter and it matters more about aerodynamics instead of just being able to have a lot of strength up the hills," Mantell said. "It's different, but knowing the bike course for sure helped me a lot."

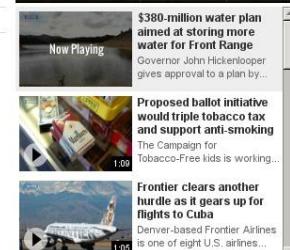

After finishing the bike portion of the race in an hour and 6 minutes, Mantell had a nice lead heading to the 6.2-mile run around Lake Loveland. Even though he was out in front, Mantell never let up, crossing the finish line with a blazing time of 2 hours, 5 minutes and 23 seconds, more than 4 minutes ahead of runner-up Rudy Kahsar of Boulder.
