

Can you solve: The Case of the Feather Fluff Puff?

Scene: A soft “coo-hoo” repeats over and over in the first light of morning. As the sun rises, a shadow glides through the trees with a swishing sound. Moments later there is a rustling, scratching noise. Then a louder wheezing raspy call. Then silence. Later in the morning, a fluffy pile of white and gray dove feathers is found at the base of a cottonwood tree.

Suspects:

Join Loveland Open Lands & Trails in another Critter Scene Investigation

Location: King's Crossing Natural Area
990 S Lincoln Ave., Loveland

Date & Time: Saturday July 15, 7PM – 9PM

Arrive: Anytime between 7PM and 8:45PM
“Open House” style event

All ages welcome

Trail is stroller and wheelchair-friendly

Questions?

Contact Michele Van Hare, Coordinator 970-962-2643

Michele.VanHare@cityofloveland.org

WWW.CITYOFLOVELAND.ORG/OPENLANDS