

Rick Davis
Battalion Chief
Loveland Fire and Rescue

Rick Davis began his fire service career in 1976 as a volunteer firefighter in Southern New Jersey. Later that year he joined the military and served as both a military and civilian firefighter with the U.S. Air Force.

In 1984 Rick joined the U.S. Marine Corps and worked in both the firefighting and aviation operations fields. He joined the ranks of Loveland Fire Rescue in 1990 as a volunteer firefighter. During that time he worked as a field representative for the Insurance Services Office (ISO) evaluating municipal fire defenses for the insurance industry throughout the Rocky Mountain region.

In 1991 Rick became a paid engineer with Loveland Fire Rescue. Throughout his career he has served as a firefighter, engineer, lieutenant, and has been a battalion chief since 2005. Currently Rick is the battalion chief for 'A' Shift and is in charge of the Wildland Team and Safety Committee. Rick has a BS in business administration and a MS in executive fire service leadership. Rick is certified in the State of Colorado as a Fire Officer III, Instructor I, Haz Mat technician, and an EMT-B. He is also enrolled in the Executive Fire Officer Program through the National Fire Academy in Emmitsburg, Maryland.
