You are the reason that I am a personal trainer!
Helping you reach your fitness goals through coaching, listening, challenging you and being there for you when it gets tough is who I am.

Qualifications

- Associates Degree from Globe University Fitness Specialist

Experience

Over 40 years of running, coaching and now training. I grew up in sports and have allowed those experiences to mold me into the trainer and person I am today. My greatest experience is seeing your happiness when you realize you can do more than you think as well as having you reach your goals and the joy that brings you.

Specialties

Though my specialty is core and body weight exercises, I have also started working with slow-motion weight training as well as sport-specific training to assist those preparing for events or seasons.
