21. General architectural description:

This Bungalow type dwelling features a basic rectangular-shaped plan that measures 43' N-S x 26' E-W. It rests on a painted pale green concrete foundation, and its exterior walls are clad with white horizontal vinyl siding. The roof is a moderately-pitched front gable, covered with grey asphalt composition shingles. Painted white rafter ends are exposed beneath widely-overhanging eaves. Decorative painted white purlins with knee braces appear in the upper gable ends.

The façade is nearly symmetrical, and faces north toward 6th Street. A stained dark brown wood-paneled door, with four vertically-oriented upper sash lights, and covered by a painted pale green wood storm door, enters near the center of the façade from an open full-width front porch. The porch measures 8' N-S x 26' E-W, and is recessed under the dwelling's main gable roof. Approached by three concrete steps, the porch features a concrete floor, a black wrought iron railing and posts that support the front end of the porch roof. A non-historic white-metal-paneled door, with nine upper sash lights, enters the south-facing wall from a small uncovered concrete porch and sidewalk. The upper gable end on the façade is penetrated by a fixed-pane diamond-shaped window. The east end of the south-facing wall contains a bad of four 6-light windows. A non-original, horizontally-oriented window is near the west end of the south-facing wall. Windows otherwise are primarily single and paired one-over-one double-hung sash with painted white wood frames and painted pale green wood surrounds.

22. Architectural style/building type: Bungalow

23. Landscaping or special setting features:

This property is located on the south side of East 6th Street in a primarily residential neighborhood east of downtown Loveland. The property features planted grass front and backyards, and a side yard along the west side of the house. The backyard and side yard are enclosed by a wood privacy fence, and by a chain link fence along the gravel alley. A wide grass strip is between the public sidewalk and the street curb. A concrete driveway along the east side of the house accesses the garage for 720 E. 5th Street next door to the east.

24. Associated buildings, features, or objects:

Garage^[SE3]^[CM4]

A one story, single-stall, garage that measures 20' N-S x 12½' E-W is located near the rear southwest corner of the property. The garage has a poured concrete foundation and floor, and its exterior walls are clad with painted white horizontal weatherboard siding with painted green 1" x 4" corner boards. The roof is a moderately-pitched front gable, with grey asphalt composition shingles laid over 1x wood decking and 2x wood rafters. The rafter ends are painted white and are exposed beneath the eaves. A white metal-paneled rollaway garage door in the south-facing wall opens onto a short gravel driveway that extends to the alley.

29. Construction history (include description and dates of major additions, alterations, or demolitions):
The six Bungalow style dwellings at 714, 720, 726, 732, 738, and 744 E. 6th Street were all built in 1919 or 1920, presumably by the same builder. Larimer County Assessor records list 1920 as this dwelling's year of construction. City directories and Sanborn Insurance maps corroborate a circa 1920 date of construction. The property's address, 714 E. 6th Street is not listed in the 1919 Loveland directory; however, it does appear in the next available 1922 directory. The property is depicted on the August 1927 Sanborn Insurance map. Earlier Sanborn maps do not depict this block. The garage is not depicted on Sanborn maps through 1946. There are no additions to the original construction; however, the front porch was substantially altered sometime after 1948[DJL5][CM6], and the house was sided with vinyl siding in 1997. As depicted in the 1948 Real Estate Appraisal Card photo, the original porch had a wood floor, tapered square wood columns, and a wood railing. The porch now has a concrete floor, a black wrought iron railing and black wrought iron columns. A window near the west end of the south-facing wall also appears non-original. Claire K. Voss Jr. was the siding contractor in 1997.

35. Historical background:

Built in 1920, this house was originally occupied by the family of Joseph W. and Hilda (Helman) Berry. The Berrys were new to the Loveland at that time, as Joseph had recently been transferred from Billings, Montana to become the Assistant Superintendent at the Great Western Sugar Company's Loveland factory. The Berry family then consisted of Joseph (age 40), his wife, Hilda (age 35), and three children – Wayne (age 7), Ralph (age 5), and Helen (age 2). Two more sons, Joseph and Donald, were born in the early 1920s, after the family had moved to Loveland.

The son of James and Alliah Berry, Joseph Worley Berry was born at Piney Flats, Sullivan County, Tennessee, on September 11, 1879. He gained employment with the Great Western Sugar Company as a young man, and was working for the company in Billings., Montana during the early 1900s. It was there that he met and married Miss Hilda Helman on July 17, 1910. The daughter of John and Bertha Helman, Hilda was born at Glendive, Dawson County, Montana, on October 28, 1885. Following their marriage, Joseph and Hilda lived in Billings until 1920 when they moved to Loveland with Joseph becoming the new Assistant Superintendent at the Great Western Sugar Factory.

The Berrys lived in this house for only a few years, as by 1925 they had moved to 521 W. 5th Street, and by 1930 they had moved again to north of the city limits. Mr. and Mrs. Berry remained in the Loveland area for the rest of their lives, with Joseph enjoying a long career with Great Western until his eventual retirement. Joseph Berry passed away on November 5, 1959 at the age of 80. Hilda passed on February 14, 1976, at the age of 90. They are interred in the Loveland Burial Park Cemetery.

714 E. 6th Street was successively occupied by the Phelps, Adams, Wilkes, Starkey, Weddell, and Wise families, from the mid-1920s until the late-1950s. Mrs. Mildred Phelps, proprietor of the Radium Beauty Shoppe, is listed at this address in the 1925 Loveland city directory, along with T. R. Phelps, a student. E. Roscoe and Florence I. Adams were the home's next residents during the late 1920s. Mr. Adams was in the car repair business as co-owner of the Nettleton and Adams Garage located at 227. E. 5th Street. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were followed at this address, during the 1930s, by Joseph D. and Lucy M. Wilkes. Joseph was employed as a foreman with the Great Western Sugar Company. Boyd and Frances Starkey, and their young son, Eugene, were this home's next residents during the early 1940s. Mr. Starkey worked as a pharmacist with Loveland Drug. The Starkeys were followed by Joseph P. and Delores Waddell during the late 1940s and early 1950s. Joseph worked as a storekeeper with the Great Western Sugar Company. Albert H. and Leah Wise, a retired couple, next lived on the home during the mid-1950s.

714 E. 6th Street was then owned and occupied by two generations of the Dewey family for over two decades, from the mid-1950s to the late 1970s. Having moved to Loveland from Farson, Wyoming, William D. and Anna W. Dewey lived in this house during their retirement years, from circa 1956 until their respective deaths in 1969 and 1977. The home was then occupied by their son, Alfred H. Dewey and his wife, Lois Helen Dewey, until the late 1970s.

William D. Dewey was born in Nebraska on April 28, 1887. He later moved to Rock Springs, Wyoming, where he and Anne were married circa 1925. Anne (maiden name unknown) was born in Wyoming on May 14, 1903. The Deweys ranched in the Rock Springs and Farson vicinities for many years before eventually retiring to Loveland. William died on September 26, 1969 at the age of 82. Anne died on May 22, 1977 at the age of 74. Their son, Alfred H. Dewey died in Loveland on February 27, 1994 at the age of 65. Lois Helen Dewey, Alfred's widow, died on July 4, 2013.

39. Area(s) of significance: Architecture

40. Period of significance: 1920 - 1970

41. Level of significance: Local

42. Statement of significance:

This house is architecturally notable as a representative Bungalow type dwelling, dating from 1920 when Bungalows were a predominant housing style nationwide. The property is also historically significant, to a modest extent, for its association with residential development, and in particular, for its association with families who were employed by the Great Western Sugar Company. At least three of its early residents were Great Western employees. The property's level of historical and architectural significance is not to the extent that it qualifies for individual listing in the National Register of Historic Places or in the State Register of Historic Properties. Due to some loss of integrity, the property is also evaluated as ineligible for local landmark designation by the City of Loveland.

43. Assessment of historic physical integrity related to significance:

This property displays an overall below average level of physical integrity, relative to the seven aspects of integrity as defined by the National Park Service and the Colorado Historical Society - setting, location, design, materials, workmanship, feeling and association. The front porch has been substantially altered from its historic appearance, the house has also been sided with vinyl, and some windows appear non-historic.

VII. NATIONAL REGISTER ELIGIBILITY ASSESSMENT44. National Register eligibility assessment: Not Individually EligibleState Register eligibility assessment: Not Individually EligibleLocal Landmark eligibility assessment: Not Eligible45. Is there National Register district potential? Yes

Discuss:[DJL7][CM8] Historic properties in this primarily residential neighborhood east of downtown Loveland have the potential to form a historic district. More broadly, Loveland's east side neighborhoods, lying west and southwest of the former Great Western Sugar Company property have the potential to form one or more historic districts. This area is generally bordered by Jefferson Street on the west, 4th Street on the south, 13th Street on the north, and Monroe and Pierce Avenues on the east.

If there is N.R. district potential, is this building contributing or noncontributing? Noncontributing46. If the building is in an existing N.R. district, is it contributing or noncontributing? N/A
